Burglars Pry Open Safe At Pottery Firm In Chester

Heavy-handed thieves pried their way into a large walk-in safe at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. pottery at Chester Sunday night, taking several hundred dollars in cash and causing heavy damage to the firm's offices.

Chester police and Hancock County deputies today were pushing investigation of the "can opener job," as officers termed the safe entry, apparently made by prying open the doors of the 7-foot wide vault.

Ed Morse, general manager of the pottery, said the drawers within the vault had been ripped open, walls and floors of the office were damaged and many papers and documents were strewn throughout the room.

The entry was discovered this morning about 8 when the office staff arrived for work.

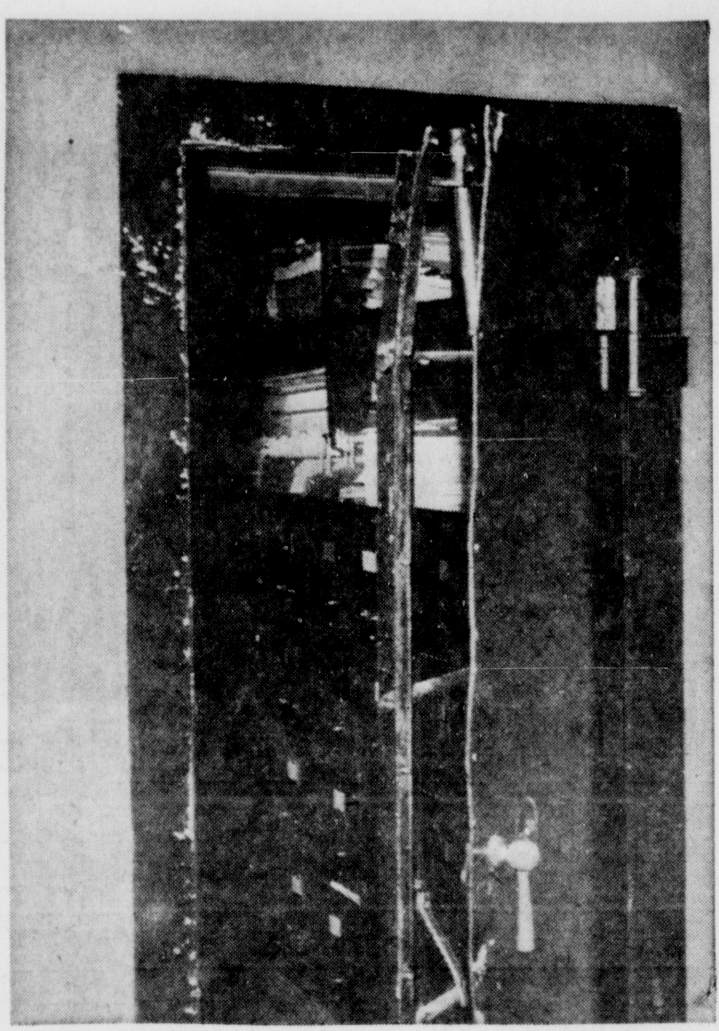

A rear office window apparently was smashed by the thieves to gain entrance, sometime before midnight, firm officials said. Collection and assembling of the papers and accounts was underway to determine the loss.

Police were checking for finger prints on the metal surfaces and other areas in the office.

Morse said the greater cost of the crime will be in repairs to the safe and offices.

Police Chief Harold Davis and a deputy sheriff were checking evidence at the office late this morning.

Officers said a large crowbar apparently was used to pry and hammer at the door of the safe, which was ripped and battered.

'CAN OPENER JOB' was the term used by police to describe the prying open of this walk-in vault at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. at Chester Sunday, when thieves obtained several hundred dollars in cash. A large crow bar apparently was used to rip the front metal plating away from the frame, permitting the thieves to enter the 12-foot deep safe in the main offices.

Ike Outlines Aid Plan For Latin Nations

Would Include Cuba If Castro Indicates That He'll Cooperate

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower today outlined a U.S. good-will aid program for Latin American nations, but said Cuba's Castro regime might be included only if it shows willingness to cooperate.

At a news conference at the summer White House, Eisenhower declined to go to any extent into the Cuban crisis. For example, he brushed aside a question about his rejection to a hint by Cuba's President that Cuba might demand the United States abandon its Guantanamo naval base.

The President declared he would wait for such a demand before having any comment.

Eisenhower's only comment on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's pledge last Saturday of all-out support to the Fidel Castro regime, was that he regarded Khrushchev's remarks as very crude.

The Khrushchev pledge brought from Eisenhower over the weekend a warning that the United States would not tolerate the establishment of a regime in Cuba dominated by international communism.

Eisenhower met with newsmen today after he and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter had conferred for nearly two hours on the Cuban crisis and the new U.S. plan to bolster economic and social standards in Latin American nations.

Eisenhower announced that he has instructed Herter to confer with representatives of these nations. If additional money is needed from Congress to finance the aid program, he will ask for it, Eisenhower said.

Firm To Make Storm Doors And Windows

A city businessman today announced plans for a new aluminum storm door and window manufacturing plant that will begin operations late this month in an E. 3rd St. building.

John D'Alessio of Homestead Dr., Calcutta, president of the new firm — B. & J. Manufacturing Co. — said workmen will begin installing machinery this week in the lower floor of the Patterson Laundry Plant, where the doors and windows will be fabricated.

D'Alessio, owner of Veterans Plate Glass Co., said six or seven women will be employed until operations get rolling and the female working staff will be increased later.

The company will manufacture aluminum storm doors and windows, jalousie windows and awning windows. The product will be sold under the brand name "Storm-Seal."

The new plant will be the only one of its type within a radius of some 50 miles, he said. Similar companies are located in Girard and Braddock, Pa.

The firm will supply the equipment direct to stores and homeowners, with no wholesale sales planned.

The plant will cost an estimated $45,000, D'Alessio said. His wife is secretary-treasurer of the firm and a son, Joseph, is vice-president.

Leetonia Asks Ballot On $60,000 Bond Issue

The Village of Leetonia today filed a $60,000 bond issue with the County Election Board for the Nov. 8 general election.

Village Council certified the issue to the board for a ballot place, with the proceeds to be used for construction of a one-story block fire station and purchase of a new fire truck and a service truck.

Meanwhile, Beaver Local and Franklin Local School Districts have filed resolutions asking renewal of 8-mill and 4-mill operating levies, respectively.

Miss USA Makes Clean Sweep

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Linda Bement, 18, a Salt Lake City girl, faced a problem of excess baggage today as she prepared to return home after a clean sweep of honors in the Miss Universe beauty pageant.

Linda came to Florida 10 days ago as Utah's representative in the pageant. She became Miss USA Thursday and Miss Universe of 1960 Saturday night. Her assets included a figure of 37-23-36 carried on a 5-foot-6 frame.

"I don't know how I'll ever get this trophy home," the raven-haired beauty said. "Daddy may have to build another room just to keep it."

The Miss Universe trophy stands three feet high and weighs more than 20 pounds. In addition, Linda received a check for $5,000 as Miss Universe winner and a personal appearance contract for another $5,000.

She said she probably would accompany her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Bement, on a plane trip to Utah Tuesday unless pageant officials wanted her for personal appearances immediately.

Castro Hints He'll Demand U.S. Quit Base

President Stands In For Ill Premier Who Talks From His Bed

HAVANA (AP) — The Castro government implied Sunday it may demand that the United States abandon its Guantanamo Naval Base in eastern Cuba.

President Osvaldo Dorticos told a labor demonstration attended by 100,000 that Cuban territory is "not for rent or sale to foreigners."

He said the annual rental check paid last month by the United States for the base would be sent back to Washington.

Under a treaty signed in 1934, the United States has a perpetual lease on the 45-square-mile base at a rent of 2,000 gold dollars—the equivalent of $3,386.25—a year.

The bespectacled, bearded President, growing daily in stature in Cuba's revolutionary hierarchy, delivered the main address at the rally after pneumonia kept Prime Minister Fidel Castro in bed.

But illness did not keep Castro off-stage entirely. Looking feverish, the 33-year-old Prime Minister put an army field jacket over his pajamas and made a 45-minute television speech from his bedroom.

Southerners Hold Fire On Rights Plank

Dixie Delegates Withhold Move Lest They Hurt Johnson

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A plank pledging a bold federal attack on racial discrimination, written over strong Southern objections, appeared headed today for adoption in the Democratic party platform.

The platform goes before the Democratic National Convention Tuesday after preliminary action today by the full Platform Committee. Approval by both groups seemed certain.

But unanswered was what Dixie delegates might do about it. They could walk out of the convention in protest as some did in 1952 to express dissatisfaction with a civil rights stand taken then. Or they could stand and fight out the issue on the convention floor and take a probable defeat.

Their final decision, some of them said, was tied to the fate of the candidacy of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas for the party's presidential nomination.

Southern backers of the Texan were reluctant to stir up too much trouble at this point lest such action embarrass him with Northern delegates who support him for the nomination but also favor a strong civil rights declaration.

They said drastic action by Southern delegates might well be associated with Johnson, inasmuch as he represents a Southern state and has many Dixie votes for the nomination.

Northern civil rights groups were jubilant over the plank approved Sunday night by a 20-member drafting committee of the convention's full 109-member resolutions committee. It gave them just about everything they had hoped for. The drafting committee also approved other planks covering foreign and other domestic issues, but civil rights promised the biggest fight.

Speaking for the Southland delegates, Sen. Sam J. Ervin of North Carolina said he could not accept the civil rights proposal. He was one of four Southerners on the drafting committee.

Bank Robbery Alerts District

Suspects Head South In Mahoning Stickup

A district police alert was broadcast for two gunmen who escaped with an undetermined amount of cash in a holdup this morning of the Cornersburg branch of the Mahoning National Bank of Youngstown.

The Columbiana County Sheriff's office at Lisbon put out the alert to Wellsville, East Liverpool and other local police departments.

A bank official said the loot is not expected to exceed $30,000.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon also was on the alert for the bandits. Two cruisers from the Columbiana County sheriff's department were dispatched to the northern part of the county in the alert.

Both men were reported armed with revolvers. They were described as being 30 to 31. One is about 5 feet 4, weighs 150 pounds and wearing a khaki-colored windbreaker and sunglasses. The other is about 6 feet 2, 210 pounds and wearing a grey tweed suit.

The two were believed headed southwest on Route 62, which runs through Salem.

Bank officials told police the two robbers walked in brandishing pistols, lined up six employees and one customer and then took the money from tellers' cages. Three other customers who entered the bank while the robbery was in progress also were held at gunpoint.

The men escaped after locking the employees and customers in the vault.

The robbery was discovered a few minutes later when another customer found the bank unoccupied and then found the people were locked in the vault. He opened the vault by following instructions of employees, shouted from inside.

Planes Rush To Rescue Europeans

Congo Troops Terrorize Whites In 2 Chief Cities

LEOPOLDVILLE. The Congo (AP)—Rebellious Congolese troops were reported terrorizing whites today in two key cities—Luluabourg and Stanleyville—as fleets of planes rushed to bring European refugees from the strife-torn African nation.

Belgian paratroops arrived in trouble centers to control the native troops rampaging in far-flung sectors of Belgium's former colony in central Africa.

Luluabourg, in the center of the Congo and once intended to become the republic's new capital, was reported still in a state of near panic, with mutineers attacking white civilians and looting homes and stores.

At least 10 Europeans were killed in the weekend of violence. Official Belgian reports said three were killed and one wounded when African rebels besieged hundreds of whites in a hotel in Luluabourg Sunday. They were rescued by Belgian paratroopers.

Seven Europeans, including the Italian vice consul, and 25 Congolese were killed in fighting at Elisabethville, capital of the rich Katanga province in the lower Congo.

Belgian troops, called in by Katanga provincial officials, brought most of the native troops under control, but looting and pillaging was reported continuing. One report said a large number of whites were barricaded in a building in the center of the city.

Premier Patrice Lumumba and President Joseph Kasavubu left in a Belgian plane for Luluabourg and Elisabethville in an effort to calm the rebellious troops and the anxious whites.

Another flareup was reported in Stanleyville, storied city astride the equator in the northeast. The Belgian radio said Congolese troops mutinied, invaded an airfield and prevented a plane loaded with refugees from taking off.

The Stanleyville rebels disarmed their European officers and took over command, and later "invaded the European city about two miles from the airfield," the Belgian broadcast said.

Leopoldville, however, was generally calm and there was less patrolling by native army units than previously.

A U.S. Air Force Globemaster capable of carrying 200 passengers flew into the Congo to pick up Americans and other refugees. The Globemaster took off from Salisbury airport in Southern Rhodesia for the Belgian Kamina military base in Katanga.

A Belgian government officer still working for the Congolese expressed doubt Lumumba could restore order.

"We can have no confidence in the influence of such leaders over those power-crazed African soldiers," he said.

Refugees were streaming out of the troubled land despite efforts of the Congolese army to check the flow and appeals from the native government to sit tight.

A radio appeal for help came from Yanga, about 100 miles from Stanleyville, declaring "we whites are surrounded and are being attacked."

At least 3,000 whites, mostly Belgians, were waiting in the former French Congo city of Brazzaville, across the Congo River, for planes to Europe. They are crowded into hotels, schools, church halls and temporary refugee camps. Dysentery is reported to have broken out in one camp.

Premier Patrice Lumumba broadcast an appeal for order in the sprawling territory. But he protested the armed Belgian intervention was based on "fallacious excuses."

Crestfallen Rivals Keep Drives Going

California, Kansas Votes Are Released For New Englander

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Democratic National Convention opens today with Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts booked solidly as a sure shot for the party's presidential nomination.

Barring some unforeseen last-hour development, Kennedy seemed likely to walk away with the coveted prize in balloting beginning Wednesday. Whether he would take it on the first count still was somewhat problematical. But that he would take it there remained little doubt.

Crestfallen rivals kept their campaigns going. But Adlai E. Stevenson, a two-time winner of jackpots in this political gamble, said he was willing to accept a Cabinet post as a consolation prize.

There were some rather strong indications that supporters of Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) were about to toss in the sponge. They denied this, of course, but the seeming futility of opposing the Kennedy juggernaut impressed itself deeply on some Symington backers.

Steve Langmade, Arizona national committeeman, told a reporter he understands consideration is being given in the Symington camp to releasing the 104 convention votes supporters claim the Missouri senator has nailed down on the first ballot.

Any such action could be a fatal blow to the efforts of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas to hold the line in the early counting and thus open the way for selection later of either himself or some other candidate.

Langmade is pledged to Kennedy on the first ballot and said he will stick through the second tally. If additional votes are needed, Langmade said, he is prepared to switch to Johnson on the third counting.

Kennedy backers said they are confident they will get more than half of the Symington votes if they are released.

Former President Harry S. Truman's double-reverse decision not to attend the convention after all cast a deep pall of gloom over the Symington camp. Symington dismissed the decision with the comment that "Mr. Truman always does what he thinks is best."

All of the presidential hopefuls came together Sunday night in a typical Hollywood setting — a

Runaway Car Strikes Youngster At Play

WEIRTON — James Joseph Reese, 3, of Weirton was injured fatally Saturday afternoon when pinned under a runaway auto of a neighbor.

Police said the auto of Reed Gilligan, 58, of 122 Preston Ave. rolled away from its parking spot, plunged over an embankment and crushed the youngster, who was playing in a yard.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Weirton General Hospital at 4:25 p. m. He was a son of Joseph J. and Marjorie Miller Reese. The survivors also include a twin sister, Jody Lynn Reese.

A six member coroner's jury was impaneled by Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland. It will hold an inquest tonight at 8 in the squire's office.

The panel includes Gerald Rainey, Richard Galtier, Clifford Prosser, Edward Reese, Alfie Reese Jr., and Charles Mitchell.

Boy Survives Plunge Over Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—The odds against young Rodger Woodward's surviving his 161-foot tumble down the Horseshoe Falls were 100 million to one, a state engineer says.

Rodger, 7, was swept over the falls Saturday when a motorboat in which he, his sister, and a family friend were riding capsized in the upper Niagara River. His sister, Deanne, 17, was plucked from the swirling rapids at the brink by two New Jersey tourists.

The boat's owner, James Honeycutt, 40, of Niagara Falls, was missing and presumed drowned.

The life jacket the boy was wearing saved his life, said Roger Williams, executive secretary and chief engineer of the Niagara Frontier State Parks Commission. Rodger landed in a 180-foot well at the base of the falls. Authorities believe that unlike the foot of the American Falls, the base of the Horseshoe Falls is free of fall.

DiSalle Plugs For Ticket Of Kennedy-Symington

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle plugged for a Kennedy-Symington ticket as the Democratic National Convention opened today.

He firmed up his prediction that Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts would run away with the presidential nomination by more than 800 votes on the first ballot, with Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas getting less than 400.

And DiSalle made it clear that he liked Sen. Stuart Symington for vice president and planned to talk with the Missourian, a presidential prospect, about the second spot.

The governor expressed his views at a news conference in the Biltmore Hotel following an hour-long meeting with Kennedy. The talk followed a flight from Columbus Sunday with 80 Ohio delegates, alternates and convention guests, including Mrs. DiSalle and their daughter, Barbara, a Washington school teacher.

During the trip here, DiSalle ran down a list of the 50 states and came up with a first ballot prediction of 845½ votes for Kennedy. Only 761 are needed for nomination. The governor conceded his total was subject to revision but not the outcome.

"There is no use speculating on a second ballot, it won't go to that," he told newsmen asking about Ohio sentiment if Kennedy missed a first ballot victory.

Ohio's 64 convention votes are pledged to Kennedy. DiSalle controls 56 as favorite son and Cuyahoga County Chairman Ray T. Miller of Cleveland the other eight. Miller contested DiSalle for delegates in the primary election following a break between the two over party policies.

Although DiSalle talked about Symington for vice president during the plane trip, he declined to

Democrats Whoop It Up At $100-A-Plate Affair

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Democrats have proved conclusively that, given the opportunity, they can celebrate as high and as handsomely as the richest Republican.

The party went partying Sunday, and, man and candidate, what partying!

The big show was a double-decker $100 a plate affair at the Beverly Hilton, Los Angeles' plush hotel.

Around 2,500 turned out for the two-ballroom job in which the four presidential aspirants in the convention opening today trotted from one hall to the other to repeat their gems.

The route between halls led through the kitchen, which brought this crack from Adlai E. Stevenson: "I've been through the kitchen so many times the last time through they offered me a job."

In addition to the glamor performance, featuring the candidates, a big outside, for-free party was held for delegates and alternates in a department store parking lot across the street.

Tables were set up to provide a bar 300 feet long. Forty-eight bartenders tended furiously. Fifty-six waiters whipped about rescuing used glasses. The booze was stacked in cases under the tables like eggs in crates at a chick hatchery.

A brass band and an orchestra provided music, and then, because Democrats traditionally play it poormouth even when they're wallowing in it, girls circulated through the crowd peddling a new Democratic cook book. At $3 apiece, the books are supposed to raise money to put the candidate on television.

For the record, Stevenson, who has the fewest delegates, got the most applause. But Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who wandered in while the program was in progress, got more applause than anybody.

Firemen Cut Way Into Tree Limb To Free Woodpecker

City firemen literally got the bird Saturday afternoon about 3:15 when they chopped a hole in the limb of a hollow tree to chase away a woodpecker.

Mrs. Richard Grier, 1041 River-view St., made the unusual request. She said that a woodpecker's nest was located in the hollow limb of a tree just outside the kitchen window of her second story apartment.

Mrs. Grier said the young bird couldn't fly and kept up an annoying chirping all day and night. She said she thought the bird "was hungry." The mother bird was around the nest, she said.

The report at Central Station doesn't say what the firemen did with the bird.

Firemen also were called to the home of Leonard Bloor, 226 W. 3rd St., when an electrical outlet in the floor developed a short circuit. No damage resulted, firemen said.

'A Dollar For Debbie'

Many fund drives have been held here, but it is doubtful if any could have more human appeal than the one now being discussed by the Lions Club.

The objective will be to raise money with which to help pay hospital and doctor bills that have been piling up as Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McElroy of College St. pursue every possible medical means to cure a rare disease which struck the nervous system of their daughter, Debbie, 9, back in 1956.

Treatment by a famed German neurosurgeon in Switzerland was the latest and most encouraging phase of efforts to save Debbie's sight.

The Image Was Not Their Own

Some of his arm-waving critics are sniping at Dwight Eisenhower again because he has gone to Newport for a golfing vacation. If this is his idea of what a President of the United States should be doing at this critical time, they are saying, it certainly is not their idea.

Their idea is that he should stay in Washington and thump the political tub. He should be stirring up issues and using the Washington sounding board to keep the country and the world conscious of his role in the White House. The arm-wavers are hoping the next President will be more to their liking.

He undoubtedly will be, though they won't like that, either. But it is a certainty the next President will behave more like a politician than President Eisenhower, who wasn't a politician when he was nominated by the Republican National Convention eight years ago and never learned how to act like one.

Politicians who resented this never quite comprehended that this was Mr. Eisenhower's strong suit in the political game he entered as an outsider. The American people had a bellyful of politicking from the Truman administration. They liked the outsider because he promised to be a change.

They never identified him with the trade of politics, and they were more amused than disturbed when politicians criticized him for not being in their image. Novelty eventually faded, as all novelties do. But even now,

Waiting Glumly For The End

Out in Benson, Ariz., a little band of people led by the minister of a small religious sect have locked themselves securely in their houses to wait for the nuclear blast that will wipe out civilization.

Their neighbors in Benson say the members of the band are known to have laid in between $30,000 and $50,000 of groceries before they shut themselves away from a world they think is doomed. Even the keyholes to their houses are plugged. There is no communication whatever with outsiders. Evidence that digging is being done in the basements of the houses suggests the sect may be bidding for survival when the rest of the world goes phht.

This sort of thing occurred years ago when Halley's Comet was expected to wipe out civilization. It is one form of the withdrawal urge that all humans feel from time to time—a kind of insanity in its extreme forms.

White House View On Steel

Replying to a question in his press conference last Wednesday, President Eisenhower made an unusually interesting observation about the steel industry.

He was not disturbed by speculation about a business recession, he said, because gross national product was at a rate of 503 billion in the second quarter of 1960 and personal income more than 400 billion. Talk about recession, he assumed, was based on the fact that "steel is operating on the order of 50 per cent."

He continued:

"There are two things to remember. One, that such a tremendous capacity of steel was built in the few years in the past so that now the 50 per cent activity is something on the order of 75 per cent. . . . And possibly there

The Once Over

Famous scientist Dr. R. N. Bracewell says it is possible other planets are sending satellites in an attempt to communicate with earth. Curious signals have been heard for decades, he says and people of "vastly superior civilization may be trying to study us and sending out messages which may one day be understood."

Top inquiries from such planets could well be, "What's all the row down there?" "Is this disturbance necessary?" and "Don't you ever simmer down?"

Mortimer Topflower fears possibility some planet has been getting a message from earth and that most of them are airwave commercials.

"If so, the inhabitants up there have been hearing so much about detergents, breath purifiers and BO preparations that they want no part of us," he declares.

"The radio jingle alone could give a planet a terrible idea of what life is like on earth."

He added the thought that, from the air-wave plugs, an advanced civilization on another planet might well conclude much of people's time on earth was taken up with choosing pizza pies, digestion remedies, beers and cigarettes.

"Any planet getting all the underarm perspiration commercials must have been hard hit," he says.

Dr. Bracewell thinks it possible there are civilizations up among the stars that make ours look bush-league. The way man is behaving on earth today makes this seem entirely likely if another planet is really trying.

Hoffa Turns Writers Lose On Kennedy

By Victor Riesel

Jimmy Hoffa has hired ghost writers to haunt the Democratic National Convention. They'll taunt John Kennedy with an attack charging the senator with being "the murderer" of American labor's rights.

This insult is in a long document which Hoffa will have his special convention aides distribute to all delegates just before the nomination roll call.

So sharp an attack is this document that the melodrama specialists of stage and screen would reject it as too tough to be real.

But truth, to coin a phrase, is now stranger than fiction for those of us covering Hoffa's hates. This column learned of the Hoffa strategy in Washington early this week.

LOS ANGELES

A victory for Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts—who seemed to have the presidential nomination sewed up before the Democratic convention opened today—will bring a gush of explanations, some too glib, some too pat, and some with only temporary significance.

Kennedy, for instance, beat the bushes all year looking for delegates, ran in the primaries, and visited most states while his closest rivals, Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Stuart Symington of Missouri, ran in no primaries, met far fewer people, relied more on contacts with professional politicians.

But it doesn't follow that would-be presidents in 1964 will have to imitate Kennedy in the belief the more people they meet and the more publicity they get the better their chances. You don't have to look further than Adlai E. Stevenson for a recent contrary example.

In 1952 he was governor of Illinois, admired by some important politicians, did no campaigning, didn't want the nomination, was known to very few convention delegates, and hardly at all by most Americans. Nevertheless, he wound up with the nomination handed to him.

This year there seemed no doubt he yearned for a third chance, but as the convention opened he looked like a sad, also-ran. He was by then a two-time loser in the presidential race, and the delegates were reluctant to take a chance on him again. He said he wouldn't ask them to.

It just happened that in 1952 there were no outstanding candidates. In that kind of vacuum the eloquent Stevenson looked like a natural. This year none of the Democratic candidates could be called a dominant figure.

Perhaps when that is the case guidance, and a new four-page tabloid called "Drive Reporter."

That's Hoffa's privilege. Now he's in a contest in which the voters can stand up and be counted. Let's all look at the record in all those precincts next November.

Come The Explanations

By James Marlow

In the future hard work will pay off for some other candidate as it appeared to do this year for Kennedy. But the memory of the unwilling Stevenson of 1952 says this idea isn't necessarily so.

The fact that all the announced candidates this year were senators does not prove that the nation in the future will look more toward Congress for its presidents and less toward other public men, particularly governors who were more or less in political eclipse this year.

For example: On the Republican side New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would have been a standout—no Republican senator is close to him in prestige or public awareness of him—if Vice President Richard M. Nixon hadn't built himself up through performance and contacts as the No. 1 man.

Johnson indicated on TV last week he felt an obligation, as Democratic leader of the Senate, to stay close to his job. Therefore, he couldn't tear around the country, as Kennedy did, trying to line up delegates.

Instead he seemed to rely on the power of fellow senators and Democratic House members to rally support for him in a big way. This will look like a mistake in strategy if Kennedy wins the nomination. But that wouldn't necessarily be true, either.

For instance, Johnson is from the South. That alone is a handicap to any politician looking for a presidential nomination at a time when the racial issue is still such a problem in the South.

But if Johnson's record in Senate leadership and voting—particularly on civil rights and labor—had been satisfactory to big city Negroes and organized labor, satisfactory enough for them to support him, all of Kennedy's efforts this year might have counted for nothing.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The first annual picnic of the Friendly Bible Class of the Anderson Methodist Church was held at Thompson Park, with Mrs. Albert Hall as chairman.

Physicians from seven eastern Ohio counties attended the annual summer meeting of the Seventh Medical Counselor district at the East Liverpool Country Club.

East Liverpool's second airport, Rinehart Field, located on the Calcutta-Fredericktown Rd., was dedicated with a two-day air show.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Seventeen Hancock County youths were accepted by CCC officials at Moundsville.

Paul B. McNicol, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. McNicol of W. 5th St., received a commission of second lieutenant in the Marine Corps and underwent intensive training at the Marine School in Philadelphia.

Mrs. G. R. Chapman was chosen chairman of the Chester Child Health Center.

Patrick Henry never belonged to any particular church or religious society. But, once handing his Bible to a friend, he said: "Here is a book worth more than all the books ever printed. Yet it is my misfortune never to have found time to read it, with proper attention and feeling, till lately. I trust in the mercy of Heaven that it is not yet too late."

Castro's Decision

By David Lawrence

U.S. May Act To Protect Lives, Property

The time for action on the Cuban problem has come. The patience of the United States government is not unlimited.

Dealing with an erratic individual like Fidel Castro requires precautionary measures. So Americans are rapidly getting out of Cuba. In a little while they may all have been evacuated, though no formal warning to leave Cuba has as yet been issued by the Department of State. Out of the 6,000 Americans living there, nearly 3,000 have already departed with their families.

Is all this the forerunner of military action? Not unless Castro provokes such a crisis. But if he does, he will find no hesitation on the part of the United States to employ its military power to protect the lives and properties of its citizens.

The Castro government has confiscated the property of Americans, British and other Europeans involving hundreds of millions of dollars, and threatens more seizures.

Confiscation in itself is not a basis for military action but, if the property is actually stolen and nothing but worthless notes are issued in exchange, the American government is justified in taking over the properties and retaining possession until such time as a free government comes into office which will respect the rights of American and other foreign citizens in Cuba.

David Lawrence

IT WILL BE recalled that back in June 1940 there was a threat of Nazi conquest of the French, British and Dutch possessions in this hemisphere.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt secured the adoption by Congress of a joint resolution implementing a document previously signed by the foreign ministers of the American republics.

Congress served notice then that no such transfer of sovereignty would be recognized and declared that, if such transfer seemed likely, the United States "in addition to other measures" would consult with the American republics "to determine on the steps which should be taken to safeguard their common interests."

Inasmuch as this is a campaign year, it is quite possible that President Eisenhower will feel impelled to ask Congress for a joint resolution authorizing him to take certain steps to prevent the Soviets from getting a foothold in Cuba.

The possible shipment of Soviet arms to Cuba has already been reported. It was precisely to avoid a similar situation in 1914 that President Wilson ordered a ship carrying German arms to Mexico to be halted and turned back to its point of origin.

To accomplish this, the customs house at Vera Cruz was seized by U.S. Marines.

The United States is not anxious to become involved in a military way in Cuba, but there have been hints by the Castro government of possible seizure of the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo, which is maintained under a Cuban-American treaty of many years standing.

Certainly any attempt to interfere with the operation of that naval base would be resisted by U.S. forces.

Castro can have peace and he can do what he pleases internally. But the moment he confiscates foreign properties, does not pay for them, and threatens the safety of foreign citizens, the United States will not hesitate to use force to secure redress and protection not only for its citizens but for those of Britain and other countries whose lives and property have also been threatened.

Slugging It Out

By Truman Twill

We are coming to the height of the gardening season.

The green beans are growing the strings that get into the teeth.

All stuff that grows underground has been furtively getting larger.

Tomato plants are ready to do something besides wilt.

The leafy green vegetables are getting to the point where neighbors will be urged to throw some of the excess into their garbage cans for a change after picking off the slugs and the measuring worms.

In the flower division, the chewing, cutting insects that specialize in the finer things have made their play and either destroyed everything or been killed in the attempt.

Black spot has taken care of the roses not already done in by red spots and brown spots.

The nasturtiums are plastered with the creepy little black lice that are as indestructible as the political opposition.

In addition to every known weed flourishing in flower beds and vegetable patches, there are three new weeds never seen before in this part of the country—and not only a few but thousands of each kind.

Seeds that always have prospered like cholera bugs in India sulked and finally rotted in the garden this year.

Soil as proverbially mellow as an innkeeper's widow has turned dyspeptic and grown a crusty green mold as its way of showing sour contempt for the world.

Elephants and tigers have clashed in mortal combat where the spider plant and the snapdragons were to have been happy in their lairs; their huge footprints are everywhere.

Ground moles have laid a supplemental Big Inch pipeline through the zinnia bed. Even formerly indestructible marigolds have developed horticultural helatitis and developed a mortal pallor.

There comes a time in the fortunes of every would-be gardener when he has reached the end of his toughest row to hoe and must put his folly behind him or go forth as a galley slave with a rake tied about his neck, to have or to hold, in sickness, or in health.

Is gardening worth what it takes?

Young Driver Fined, Jailed In City's Court

A city youth was fined and jailed today in Municipal Court on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol, while two other motorists were fined and four forfeited $31 bonds on other traffic charges.

Robert T. Harding Jr., 21, of 1011 May St. was fined $250 and costs, sentenced to five days in jail and had his driver's license revoked for six months after pleading guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

A charge of driving without an operator's permit was dismissed by Judge Chertoff when Harding produced his driver's license. He was cited Friday night in the Diamond Slade.

Slade Brandel, 26, of Irondale was fined $50 and costs on a reckless driving charge filed by police early last Wednesday when police observed him rounding a curve on the Lisbon St. grade on the wrong side of the road.

Agreement Reached Over Use Of Machines

CLEVELAND (AP) — A dispute over use of teletypesetter machines at the new Wall Street Journal plant here has been settled.

Walter Mullen, president of Local 53, Cleveland Typographical Union, said the agreement reached Sunday provides for one operator for each two machines.

The company originally suggested one operator to monitor each three machines. In five other plants, the Journal has one operator for each machine.

Mullen said Journal printers approved the new contract 47-8 in a meeting at union headquarters.

The new contract runs to Sept. 30, when it will be renegotiated along with those of other Cleveland newspapers, Mullen said.

What To Do About Some One You Like

A supervisor working for a large organization hated his immediate superior. In his eyes the boss was mean, opinionated and egotistical. He regarded many of the boss's decisions as unfair and spent much of his time struggling to protect his own subordinates from the effects of his superior's attitudes. In time the wear and tear of this relationship became a real problem to him. It got on his nerves. Finally, one evening he talked the situation over with his wife, letting out all the resentments that were eating at him.

"WHY DON'T you pray about it?" she asked quietly.

"I have prayed about it."

"But just how have you prayed?" she persisted.

"I asked the Lord to get that man out of my hair. I asked that the guy be transferred — anything to get rid of him!"

"Don't you know, Bill," she remonstrated, "that the Lord never answers prayers like that. Those are hate prayers. Why don't you try love prayers for your boss?"

"Love prayers! Have you ever seen the guy? Love a bird like that! Don't make me laugh."

"I think the poor man most likely is maladjusted and unhappy," she answered. "Let's pray that he may be healed of his inner conflicts. Let's pray that he may rise to even greater authority and have the ability to handle it."

"I certainly will never pray for that. He has too much authority now."

"Well, let's pray for whatever may be best for him."

"It's impractical," grumbled her husband, "but I'll do it. I've already tried everything else."

SO THEY started praying together for the boss, and did so regularly each morning and evening. Such prayer campaigns as this do not get quick and easy results. Bill had to learn to really mean his prayers.

Quite a few days and not a few prayers were required to get his attitudes to a point of real sincerity. The best he could do at first was to pray that his own hostility be drained from his mind. Then he got so he could pray for the other man with genuine good will.

Did this spiritual program work out? It certainly did.

Some weeks later, after a business conference, the boss suddenly said to him, "Bill, you are different than you used to be. I think you and I ought to work together more closely."

Bill was really startled by this change of attitude and could hardly believe it. But something had definitely happened — he was different, that was sure. Perhaps the truth was, they were both different. Thus began a new working relationship that permeated the whole organization.

WHY DO WE dislike some people or they us? Dislike can spring from fear, irritation, jealousy, resentment — any number of subjective states. In many cases it rises out of prejudice or is based on misconceptions about the sort of fellow the other person is.

If there is someone you dislike, do not accept this as a natural feeling. The antipathy you harbor can become a limiting influence in your life. So you should try to overcome it — and you can.

A good way to attack hostility feelings is to sit quietly by yourself and figure out just what it is that antagonizes you. Make a list of the person's objectionable qualities and acts. Getting your feelings objectively defined and down on paper is a fine device for reducing your emotional reactions. Moreover, you may discover in so doing that your grounds for dislike are much less substantial than you had thought.

Also, consider honestly whether something negative in your own personality or actions may not call forth similar reactions in the other fellow. Do you stimulate mutual dislike between yourself and others by inadvertently rubbing them the wrong way?

A FRIEND of mine has wonderful personal relations with everyone. I wondered how he does it, because he is no more attractive as a personality than many another.

His secret is simply this: When another person starts to give him a bad time or be difficult, he simply says to himself, "He is a child of God. Respect him and try to love him." He has found this really works. It gets them onto a better basis and mutual understanding seems to develop naturally.

Review your impressions of others, looking for all the good points you can find. No matter how thoroughly you may dislike somebody, if you really try you will be able to see some redeeming quality in him, some likeable factor.

Beneath the outer aspects of personality there may be a human being you will like very much indeed if you get to know him well enough. Concentrate on that. It isn't necessary to have bad relations with other people. Life is so much happier when you are not on the outs with people. Try it.

Statistics Indicate

Ohioans Big Smokers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department specialists have come up with some pretty interesting statistics on cigarette smokers in the Buckeye State. Ohioans smoke so many cigarettes that—even when you include the non-smokers—the figures show an annual consumption of 182 packs for each person above the age of 15.

The department arrives at these statistics by dividing the number of packs sold in each state by the number of persons 15 and over.

Actually, Ohio's average, though it may seem large, is easily topped by California, for example, which averaged 217 packs a person and Maine's 204.

The department said southern states generally had the lower consumption averages and in low income states—a lot of people just can't afford to smoke cigarettes.

Stevenson, greeted by a storm of applause, was lyrical. Tensley, Kennedy ripped off an old campaign speech at a furious gait. Symington played it down. He said nobody had done him wrong in the preliminaries of the convention, which gets under way late today.

Johnson, in the star billing as the last act on the show, lectured the Democrats about the souring condition of a world in which Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev can threaten to launch rockets against this country if it interferes in Cuba's undulating affairs.

Despite brave statements by his rivals, Kennedy continued to fence them in. While he talked of delegate gains, he battered down the barriers to an early nomination.

California and its 8-vote delegation was one of these. With what his critics called characteristic indecision, Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced he is backing Kennedy. Brown said the delegates could go their independent ways.

But he later denied that this constituted a release from their pledge to vote for him on the first ballot. The delegation put off until Tuesday any poll of sentiment, but most of its members thought it would summon at least 60 votes for Kennedy toward the 761 he needs for the nomination.

The decision of California and some other states could determine whether Kennedy snatches the

Among others, Gov. Herschel C. Loveless of Iowa released a favorable son delegation after it casts its 26 votes for him on the first tally as directed by the state's party convention.

Having done that, the delegation could switch before the final result was announced. A poll showed 16½ votes for Kennedy, with the remainder split Symington 4, Johnson 2, Stevenson 2, absent 1½.

Georgetown Schools' Tax Increased 8 Mills

The Georgetown Board of Education adopted a final 1960-1961 budget of $20,000 and increased millage on real estate 8 mills to 28 at a meeting Friday night in the school.

Last year's millage was 20. It had been raised to 24 when the tentative budget of $19,120 was adopted last month. Additional costs for the coming year will be those of tuition and transportation of students to Midland High School.

Last year, there were eight tuition pupils and this fall there will be 14, Paul Brandon, secretary, said. Lester Rowley, president, presided. Next meeting will be about Aug. 2.

Man Knocks His Pleading Mother Down, Flees Jail

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP)—A Dayton, Ohio, man knocked his pleading mother to the floor Sunday as he broke out of Wayne County's new jail. He had been sentenced to Indiana Reformatory for 10 - 25 years in a robbery that netted $62.

The man, Raymond E. Evans, 24, knocked down Turnkey Kenneth Young as he opened a door, squeezed through an eight - inch wide opening and dashed into the jail lobby.

His mother, Mrs. Frances Bunker of Dayton, waiting in the lobby with her husband, Chester, and daughter, Anna, 14, grabbed Evans and pleaded with him not to escape.

The family had visited Evans earlier and stayed to pick up his clothing. Evans is the first to escape from the so-called escape-proof jail. It was finished last summer.

Evans was one of three who pleaded guilty to charges of robbery of a restaurant in nearby Dublin June 27. Also sentenced in the holdup were Evans' brother, William, 23, and Warren E. Senteny, 19, of Indianapolis. The younger Evans received a six month sentence to the state farm and Senteny one year.

4-H News

Family night was observed and a winner roast was held when the Hookstown 4-H Agricultural Club met Wednesday night at the Grange Hall.

Plans were made to attend the Beaver County 4-H Club picnic July 20 at Gypsy Glen Park. Swimming is planned from 2 to 4 p. m. A picnic supper will be followed by a program, in which the various clubs will participate.

2 Meetings And Picnic Planned For Scouters

Arrangements for two meetings and a family picnic for Cherokee District adult scouters were announced today by Robert Gray, district executive.

The district camping and activities committee will meet tonight at 7:30 at his home at 110 1st St., Chester, to formulate final plans for the Jubilee Camporee July 22-24 at the Lisbon Fairgrounds.

The district committee meeting will be held Tuesday night at 7:30 at the Chester American Legion Home. Institutional representatives and committeemen were asked to call Al West, district chairman, if they will not be present.

A Cherokee Roundtable pot-luck picnic will be held Wednesday night at 6:30 at the Casting Club grounds on McCoy Ave. A basket lunch will be served. Coffee will be provided, according to Gene Seeley, chairman.

go that far during the hotel press conference. DiSalle said that he discussed the vice presidency with Kennedy and that Symington was qualified.

Displaying growing confidence in Kennedy's nomination, DiSalle said they talked about appearances of the Massachusetts senator in Ohio during the election campaign. DiSalle expressed the hope that Kennedy would visit the Buckeye State during August, September and October.

"I think Kennedy can carry Ohio and can carry it handily in 1960," DiSalle said. He added that Kennedy should show more strength in rural Ohio than former President Truman did in 1948 when he carried the state.

DiSalle said he would take part in the campaign but declined to say whether he would leave Ohio for speechmaking. The governor reiterated that he was uninterested in a Cabinet post or other appointment at this time.

DiSalle said he had no choice for national Democratic chairman but indicated John Bailey, Connecticut state chairman and an early Kennedy supporter, would be a good bet.

Boy, 11, Hurt In Plane Crash, Walks For Help

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy survived a crash of a small plane and then, seriously injured, walked over five miles for aid.

Killed in the crash were Mrs. R. C. Sasser, mother of Randy Sasser, and R. H. Myles, 37, pilot of the plane. All were from Waycross, Ga. The single engine Comanche crashed Sunday night atop Mt. Atena, about eight miles southwest of here. Tennessee highway patrolmen said the man and woman were thrown from the plane. Wreckage was spread over some 50 square feet.

Randy, seriously injured after being thrown from the plane, staggered through heavy underbrush to a dirt road and down the mountain to the home of Xen Austin. After he told his story he was taken to a Chattanooga hospital where he was listed in fair condition with lacerations, abrasions and a possible broken leg.

A. B. Cochran, airport manager at Waycross, said Myles filed a flight plan Wednesday saying he was going to Chicago and back alone. The plane was returning from Chicago at the time of the crash—during a thunderstorm that dumped an inch of rain on some areas and bore wind gusts up to 51 miles an hour.

Police in Waycross said Mrs. Sasser and her husband were separated.

Perfume 'Round the Clock

Q.—Dear Jane: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. G. B.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. Auto Smashup Hurts Woman

A Glenmoor area woman, apparently en route to work at a pottery, was injured this morning when her car veered off a curve of Lisbon St. Ext. and struck an embankment near Westfield Rd.

Velora Laughlin, 47, of Lisbon St. Ext., employe of the Homer Laughlin China Co., is in "fair" condition at City Hospital with lacerations of the right forehead and upper lip and bruises.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said she was driving south at 6:25 a. m. when she apparently lost control on a sharp curve near Westfield Rd. and her 1955 sedan went off the left side of the road into the embankment.

The front of the auto was damaged, officers said, and she faces a charge of driving left of center.

Minor damage resulted to two autos Sunday afternoon at 5:45 on Route 154 about two miles east of Rogers, officers said.

Former Attorney Is Arrested In Insurance Fraud

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A former attorney was arrested in Canton today on charges of participating in an insurance swindle which has been under investigation for many months.

John Beyoglidis, 45, of Canton, was arrested under a secret indictment returned Friday by the Summit County grand jury.

John Ballard, Summit County prosecutor, said Beyoglidis was involved in four false claims for automobile accidents, ranging from 1956 to early this year, in Massillon, Alliance and Cleveland heights. The claims total $50,000.

In May Beyoglidis was disbarred from the practice of law by the Ohio Supreme Court. He was charged with 18 counts of misconduct and violating professional ethics.

The insurance investigation turned up $220,000 in false claims and has resulted in charges against more than a dozen individuals. Four have been sentenced to terms in Ohio Penitentiary.

A Metropolitan Opera star who also makes personal and television appearances, and does recordings, can earn about $100,000 a year.

Probe Pushed In Knife Death

BEAVER FALLS — Police are continuing investigation of the death of Richard Peete, 35, former Beaver Falls High School basketball star, who was stabbed fatally in an argument Saturday night outside the Red Lion Inn.

Several men have been questioned in connection with the death, but none has been held, officers said.

Police reported Peete, his wife, Melva, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Jess Alfred, had been at the inn, where an argument started between the husband and wife. As the Peete party left about 10:45 p. m., the dispute continued outside and a scuffle ensued, involving four or five men, officers said.

Peete was knifed in the chest. He died at 6 a. m. Sunday in Providence Hospital at Rochester.

The investigation is being made by State Police, Constable Ross Keefe of White Township, where the stabbing occurred, and Beaver County detectives.

Peete was regarded as the finest basketball player ever to attend Beaver Falls High School. He was a key player in the 1944 Class A Section 3 championship squad which lost the state WPIAL title in the final round.

Jordan had been alone.

Elmer Staton, a man in his 50s who lived at Mullens, was driving a car carrying three others. It swerved off the road, sideswiped a fence and struck a pole, at Helen in Raleigh County.

Staton was killed and the other three were injured.

Gary McComas, 18, of near Milton went swimming Saturday in the Mid River near Barboursville. He apparently struck his head on a rock after diving into the water. Friends out with him soon noticed his disappearance, but by the time he was found he was dead.

The youth was admitted to Weirton General Hospital for observation. He suffered abrasions of the back and left side. The child's father is William Britton of Weirton.

Repairs Must Be Planned

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newsfeatures Writer

When one buys an old house the temptation may be great to improve it. Sometimes it is bought with that idea in mind.

The theory is that if you've gotten a good deal on the buying, you should invest a little money in renovations and repairs.

Plan wisely when you consider improvements. Landscaping is important, but it isn't a willy-nilly venture. Here is a reader's letter that illustrates that point:

"We bought an old house that had only a couple of maple trees and lacked good foliage around the house. We bought bushes, hedges, plants and succeeded only in spending a lot of money. Everything we have done looks wrong. Is there any publication available that will give us good advice about planning our grounds at a minimum of expense?"

GOOD BOOKS on landscaping may be obtained at the public library and at book stores. Also, there are government publications available. It is a good idea to consult nurserymen if there are big problems. It should be cheaper in the long run.

Many nurseries offer the service free, if you purchase the initial plants from them. A trained eye can change the look of the old homestead and improve your good purchase, and a good nurseryman may suggest a long-range plan to fit your budget, suggesting the improvements that will help at once. He can also transplant bushes and plants that need a better location.

You can squander money in other ways when you purchase an old house. A favorite one, judging by the many letters on the subject, is to decide the kitchen can be remade for little money. This letter is typical:

"We located an old Victorian house which was a great bargain as it has six bedrooms. We have five children. The kitchen was dark, dreary, dirty. The walls were cracked, fixtures were ancient. There were other problems but the kitchen was my main objection. My husband said we could afford to remodel the kitchen with what we saved on the purchase of the house. I agreed.

"We did everything wrong. We put in a new sink before we did anything else. The installation of it cost more than we anticipated. We put in a new refrigerator, and that was as far as we could go, except for painting the kitchen. It is good to have the new things, but now we are stuck with old cabinets, floor, doors and windows. What would you do next?"

A KITCHEN needs a plan, and even with a plan it is a big project. Once a plan is established, however, you can decide what to do first, and what you need and can afford after that. You can't put in a floor until you have the cabinets laid out.

It's a good idea to decide whether other appliances — washer and dryer — will be put in the kitchen. If you know what you would like in the future in the way of appliances and flooring, contact a kitchen planner and get the plan with dimensions organized, a plan to arrange to buy cabinets, appliances and whatever else you need over the years.

Convention Like Ball Game

By SAUL PETT LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Democratic National Convention opens today with a rising feeling of sinking suspense.

The experts say it's all over but the shouting. Now if we could only eliminate the shouting—

This convention is like a ball game which already has been played and the score posted but the starting pitchers still insist on warming up. Everyone says that Kennedy is in. Everyone but Johnson and Symington, who smile bravely and say they are still encouraged. Stevenson still says he's not actively in the race, and he never seemed more right.

After four days of public hearing, the Platform Committee has gone into hiding to draft a platform.

form. After the election, the platform will go into hiding.

The good, gray Johnson people still say that Kennedy is too young for the job. But if somehow the balloting should go beyond the fourth or fifth ballot, he'll age enough in that time for any job.

A man in a blue suit and a white Johnson-for-president tie happened to be sitting near the free soda pop stand in the senator's reception room. A woman and her young son walked up and asked for a bottle. The man said he was sorry he couldn't help her.

"Come on, junior," the woman said, pulling her son, "they're just cheap here."

The man in the blue suit was H. L. Hunt, one of the richest men in the world, who has more oil millions than Kennedy has delegates.

Despite the support of Hunt and other Texas wheels, the Johnson people keep complaining about all the money the Kennedy people have been spending on their campaign. This is the most moving sign of humility from Texas since Alaska became the biggest state in the union.

Symington was about to go on a TV show when a technician told him, "Senator, you've lost your garter." Symington hoisted the garter, saying, "That's not all I've lost around here."

The incident occurred shortly after the senator learned that his No. 1 supporter, Harry S. Truman, had definitely decided not to attend the convention.

day Mathews tripped himself up by giving money to his mother and wife. Since he was known to be unemployed, curiosity was aroused in the neighborhood and eventually the police were tipped.

One of the many questions Lt. Roush was asked yesterday was why Mathews had decided to go into crime. Now 32, he had no record. It was something new for him.

"He told me he did because his children were starving," the lieutenant answered.

Color Can Set The Mood

"Color, because it appeals directly to the emotions, is the single most important factor in establishing the mood of an interior," explains Alvin Schechter, director of decor and color for the noted retailing consultants and designers firm of Amos Parrish & Co.

Since a new paint color can completely change the mood of a room, even when everything else remains unaltered, the vast army of do-it-yourself painters will find Schechter's color comments of particular interest.

When decorating the dining room, the color authority cautions against using jarring or strong colors which are not conducive to quiet, relaxed dining. Cool blues, greens and grays are highly recommended choices. And beige is always acceptable.

He also stresses the importance of general lighting for this area, and keeping glare to an absolute minimum. According to Schechter, this can easily be accomplished by painting the ceiling a darker color "which will soften the glare and introduce a softly dramatic note to the overall effect."

The Parrish company designer also warns about glare in the kitchen, since almost every surface — refrigerator, stove, washing machine — has a highly polished surface.

To combat this situation, he recommends using a semi-gloss paint for the walls rather than a high gloss finish. As for color selection, gay hues are the most attractive. Generous splashes of white for ceiling, cabinets and furniture will set off the bright wall color most effectively.

While bedroom wall colors are a matter of personal preference, a fine example of how to create a feminine touch without losing the masculine appeal can be had from the Parrish company treatment of Raleigh Haberdashers of Washington, D. C. In an effort to inaugurate a women's department in what was primarily a men's store, the Parrish organization used a series of ash wood panels which were treated with lime green paint. This provided the happy medium in a most attractive way.

Decorating the one-room apartment presents a challenge because the single room must be capable of providing many moods. This can be achieved by the use of accent walls — different wall colors which will create separate areas and furniture groupings.

Illustrating this effect, Schechter suggests a soft ultra-marine wall with paintings in off-white frames behind a sofa, which could provide the focal point for casual conversations. "A burnt-orange wall can set off the dining area in an elegant mood, especially in contrast with the rich wood of a buffet and the sparkle of glass."

THE COLOR expert also indicates the importance of a foyer can play in a one-room apartment. "Painting the ceiling in a rich, strong color will produce a dramatic accent and create an illusion of space, provided there is an architectural break separating it from the rest of the room."

A room with southern exposure will look more attractive painted a cool blue, green or gray. However, such cool hues would make a room with northern exposure look too cool.

These rooms are more enhanced by the warm reds, golds, corals or oranges. This color effect was clearly illustrated when a furrier who was losing sales came to the Parrish company for help. The fur salon originally was painted a warm red-orange. The Parrish people had the walls repainted a cool blue-green, which stimulated the desire for furs, and thus increased business.

Even an old-fashioned railroad apartment can be vastly improved with paint colors. "Here paint can work to break the monotony of such an apartment, by using a paint treatment which will divert the eye away from the central axis and focus attention on furniture groupings and accessories," Schechter says.

FOR THE COUNTRY. Designed in farmhouse styling, this ranch combines livability and charm in seven well-designed rooms covering 2,190 square feet. The three bedrooms and bath are off to themselves, and the living and dining rooms have outdoor porch and patios. A feature is a 17 x 17 family room, perfect for informal entertaining. The plan, HA146K, is by Architect Derick B. Kipp, Room 75, 117 W. 48th St., New York 36, N. Y.

Proper Paint Must Be Used For Masonry

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

In painting concrete, stucco, mortar, cement block and similar types of masonry, it is important to use paints which are immune to the alkali present in these building materials.

These paints include exterior latex designed for masonry use, portland cement, solvent-thinned resins especially suitable for swimming pools and transparent silicone coatings. Oil-based paints generally are not recommended, although the exterior kind may be used over sound, previously-painted surfaces.

Before painting masonry, all dirt and dust should be removed by brushing and scrubbing with water. Wiping with turpentine or an odorless solvent will take off oil or grease.

Metal objects imbedded in the walls or other surfaces should be primed with an anti-corrosive metal primer, and all cracks should be patched. A wire brush is necessary for removing loose or peeling paint and will also take away any chalk particles.

The latex paints can be applied to set or dry surfaces, the portland cement paints to wet surfaces only, the others to dry surfaces. Portland cement paint comes as a powder in white and a variety of colors and penetrates the masonry. The powder is mixed with water just before use.

Only enough mixture should be made which can be applied in a maximum of four hours. The walls must be thoroughly wetted and kept wet while the paint is scrubbed into the surface with a brush. While portland cement paint is often used as a sealer for cement block, it is not suitable for patios or other areas which will be walked on.

When it is desirable not to change the original color of the masonry, transparent silicone coatings are excellent.

They perform their protective function by lining the pores of the material. No water can penetrate this barrier. And as it runs off, it takes surface dirt with it. Silicone paints should not be used until the surface has weathered for at least 30 days.

Hints Given For Better Lighting In Bathroom

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

What's the worst lighted room in the average home?

The bathroom, lighting experts say. Inadequate lighting may help explain why the bathroom also is one of the most dangerous rooms in the house. Thousands of persons are killed or injured annually in bathroom falls.

Sometimes the bad lighting is the fault of the builder, who may have used obsolete lighting standards in determining the location of the fixtures. And sometimes it is the fault of the home owner, who fails to make proper use of the lighting facilities provided, either through indifference or a false sense of economy.

The American Home Lighting Institute has come up with a series of recommendations for proper bathroom lighting. They can be used to determine how your own bathroom shapes up in this regard, as a gauge if you're having a home built or as a guide if you plan on making changes in the present setup.

These recommendations, by the way, call for standards somewhat higher than what is known in the industry as "minimum light for living standards."

When the sink or wash basin is free standing, with a conventional mirror and medicine chest, use a pair of linear brackets, one on each side of the mirror, plus a ceiling fixture. The brackets should be centered 60 inches above the floor, 30 to 36 inches apart.

Each bracket should use a 20-watt home-line fluorescent tube or two 40-watt incandescent bulbs. Home-line is a type of tube made by all manufacturers. The ceiling fixture should be centered with the mirror, above the front edge of the sink, using two fluorescent tubes, totaling a minimum of 40 watts, or 100 watts of incandescent lighting.

When one or two wash basins are installed in a vanity counter more than four feet wide, use a soffit, plus ceiling recessed units. The soffit should be at least 15 inches from front to back above the vanity. Two rows of fluorescent tubes, approximately the length of the mirror or counter, should be used.

A recessed unit in the ceiling should hold a minimum of 75 watts in each partitioned or curtained area. A vapor proof fixture should be used in the ceiling above the tub and/or shower enclosure.

For a very small lavatory or powder room, use of pair of brackets, mounted 60 inches above the floor and 24 to 30 inches apart, with a minimum of one 60-watt bulb, or a single linear bracket, centered at the top of the mirror, using a minimum of two 60-watt bulbs.

Ohio Traffic Kills 9 More

Traffic Drowning Miscellaneous Total

By The Associated Press
Many Ohio motorists apparently stayed home this last weekend, resting up from the tragic Fourth of July holiday.

In the 54-hour period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday only nine persons lost their lives on the state's highways—one of the lowest weekend fatality tolls this year.

Besides the traffic mishaps one man was fatally burned and a 10-month-old youngster apparently drowned in his bathtub in Cleveland.

There was only one multiple death crash, a head-on collision on U.S. 22 west of Washington Court House killing two persons Sunday.

The fatalities:

Friday Night

Ronald Lee Quinlan, 21, of Zanesville, when the car in which he was riding struck a tree in Zanesville.

Edwin Holihan, 55, of Detroit, Mich., in an auto-truck crash on U.S. 20 near Woodville in Wood County.

Charles L. Morrow, 23, of Garfield, of burns suffered when gasoline splashed on a power roller he was operating in Salem and ignited.

Saturday

Darrell Merriman, 23, of Dayton, when his car crashed through a fence beside Ohio 47 near Lebanon.

Howard L. Haines, of Rt. 5, Wilmington, in an auto collision on U.S. 22, two miles west of Wilmington.

Sunday

Vernon Newland, 56, and Mrs. Elizabeth Tolliver, 45, both of Sabina (Clinton County), in a head-on collision 6½ miles west of Washington Court House on U.S. 22.

Beverly Ann Miller, 18, of Norwalk, in an auto collision in Norwalk.

Allan Wendling, 7, of West Richfield (Summit County) struck by a car on Ohio 176 near West Richfield.

Michael Ziko, 10 months, of Cleveland, drowned in a bathtub at his home.

James D. Blaha, 34, of Cleveland, when his car skidded off a road in nearby Willoughby and hit a tree.

Windcreens Help To Set Off Shrubbery And Flower Beds

Gardens in any given community are apt to be as varied as the colors of the rainbow, for even with common terrain and climate each homeowner will see different potentialities in his yard.

And, of course, establishment of individual taste and styling is always desirable.

But there is a common problem, too, shared by every gardener: how best to show off the fruits of his labor. Here, landscape architects offer a bit of timeless advice by suggesting the use of windcreens as foils to set off groupings of choice shrubbery or of flower beds.

In order to best highlight the paintings, the screens should be a natural wood stain or white. Color, except when handled by an expert, is taboo. Styling should be in keeping with the home's architecture and the general theme set by the landscaping.

A home of contemporary styling generally calls for screening that is light and informal. Here, one favorite is an airy concoction taken from the Japanese. It is built of 1-by-1-inch western red cedar strips nailed either horizontally or vertically on a 2-by-4-inch frame of cedar or fir. Posts should be 4-by-4-inch cedar. The strips are spaced an inch apart to heighten the lacy appearance of this design.

If setting the screen in a straight line doesn't suit the contours of your yard, try building it in sections that jig-jag around the edge of the garden plot.

Now, for a home of traditional styling, delicate louvers, open latticework or decorative grilles are favorites. Since the traditionally styled home usually has painted siding in either a color or white, white paint for the garden screens is the best choice for a finish.

A last note on screens: before taking saw and hammer in hand, use a pencil on paper. By mapping your yard in scale, you'll be able to see just what dimensions

Self-Inflicted Wound Fatal To Ex-Mayor

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — William Frederick Straub, 60, former mayor of Mineral City, died Sunday in Aultman Hospital of a gunshot wound. Acting Stark County Coroner Otto L. Plaut ruled the death a suicide.

Straub, formerly a foreman at the Timken Roller Bearing Co. plant here, shot himself in the head June 1 while his wife was telephoning for a doctor's appointment, sheriff's deputies reported. Straub had complained that his nerves were bad.

New Paints Offered

Many companies are offering water emulsion house paints this year. These paints dry in less than an hour, which means that insects, dirt and seeds are less likely to be trapped in the paint film. Sudden rain storms will not spoil the job and painting can be resumed on a wet surface. But be sure to follow carefully the instructions on the can before applying any type of paint.

'Dry To Touch'

A paint is said to have dried "dust free" when dust will no longer adhere to it. The term "dry to touch" means that the paint has hardened sufficiently so that it can be touched lightly without any of it adhering to the fingers. "Dry to handle" means that the paint has hardened so that it may be handled without marring. Read the label instructions for these drying times so you won't spoil your paint job by handling it too soon.

Paint At Sea

The new French luxury liner the S. S. France, which is now under construction at St. Nazaire, requires twenty-nine tons of paint to protect its hull from the sea. Six coats are being applied below the water line and five coats above it. Thousands of additional gallons will be used to beautify and protect its superstructure, inside and out.

Pittsburgh Leads National League By 5 Games At 'Halftime'

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer The Pittsburgh Pirates have the largest lead in the National League at the All Star break in five years, but who's the hottest club in the race? There's just one answer—the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers.

While the Bucs have padded their lead to five games over second-place Milwaukee by picking up 1 1/2 games over the past two weeks, they've played no better than .500 ball in that span. tory over East Palestine in a County-City League battle Sunday at East Palestine.

In one other game played Sunday, Lawrenceville gained a 5-1 decision over Negley.

Dickey, who owns a humming fastball, allowed only four hits in his nine inning stint and gave up the lone run in the last of the fourth inning.

Dickey was a strikeout artist at Ohio Wesleyan when he set the Ohio Conference record with 22 in one game.

His teammates gave him ample support with a 10-hit attack led by the leadoff man Bob Gessford who stroked three hits in four trips to the plate and scored a pair of runs for his afternoon work.

Seven other starters for the winners hit safely.

Selby was the losing pitcher and fanned eight. McGaff collected two of East Palestine's four hits.

The victory was the 11th in 12 starts for the Cox-Merchants entry. Lawrenceville spotted Negley a one-run lead in the first inning before coming back in the third to tie the count at 1-1, then go out in front to stay with a lone run in the fourth inning.

Bud Green was the winning hurler and allowed Negley only six hits. He gave up only one walk and fanned three. Minamyer was checked with the loss.

Green received solid support from his teammates who opened up a 13-hit attack.

Vic Reed, Lawrenceville catcher, paced the hitting department with three safeties, including a double. Emil Hasenstab, Ron Pugh and Green collected two hits each.

Clarence Nine, Wampum Set Pace In Non-Pro Play

Two entries picked up their second victories and one team was eliminated from the field of 16 squads over the weekend in the Pennsylvania Non-Pro tourney at Midland's Crucible Field.

Negley was the first team to fall by the wayside after losing, 10-3, to the New Castle Civics and 11-1 to the Clarence Mounties in the double elimination event.

The Clarence entry and Wampum both picked up their second victories of the tourney. The Mounties blanked the New Castle Civics, 9-0, and Wampum spilled West Kittanning, 8-0, Sunday.

In one other contest Sunday, a strong Youngwood Merchant nine from the Greensburg area scored a 10-0 win over Aliquippa J & L Steel.

Art Petrosky, state commissioner, announced that Midland came up with a last minute sponsor and will now be able to defend its title. The Midland nine will see action this weekend when the tourney resumes.

Sievers Giving Chicago White Sox 'Big Push'

CHICAGO (AP) — Roy Sievers, the guy who "gets the big hits when they count," has lifted the Chicago White Sox back into contention for the American League pennant.

The hard-hitting slugger acquired from Washington in a pre-season deal smashed a three-run homer Sunday to give the Sox a 6-4 victory over Cleveland and earn the American League Champions an important doubleheader split.

The triumph was the fifth for the Sox in their six-game two-city series with the Indians and put them one-half game behind second-place Cleveland and three games within league-leading New York.

Sievers' smash was his second homer within five days which gave the White Sox victory. A two-run ninth inning blast broke a tie Wednesday and gave the Sox a 7-5 triumph which began a four-game winning streak against Cleveland.

After a slow start which found Sievers riding the bench the big first baseman is currently on a 16-game hitting streak in which he has lifted his average from .241 to .280. He has hit six of his 12 home runs during this string in which he has driven in 15 runs.

Women's Tennis Tourney Opens On Cincy Courts

CINCINNATI (AP) — A championship-studded field of 144, including four American Curtis Cuppers, opens the 30th women's Trans-Mississippi golf tournament today. It's the first time the tournament has been held as far east as Ohio.

Today's play is to qualify 64 for match play starting Tuesday. The tourney is at the 6,521-yard layout at Kenwood Country Club where women's par is 37-74.

Mrs. Casey Johnstone of Mason City, Iowa, six times champion in her home state and a member of the successful U. S. Curtis Cup crew, is defending champion.

She won the title last year at Hot Springs, Ark., from Sherry Wheeler, Glasgow, Ky., southwestern champion who also will be in today's field.

Best known foreign entry is Sandra Clifford, 22, of Mexico City who won the Mexican open and amateur titles last year and has also picked up the German and Spanish amateur titles.

Wings' HRs Rip Toronto

By The Associated Press
The Rochester Red Wings found the ultimate weapon to humble league-leading Toronto—the home run.

The Wings hit five 'em Sunday in taking an International League doubleheader from the Leafs, 11-4 and 3-2, with outfielder Leon Wagner coming up with two in one inning. The 11 runs in the first game, triggered by a nine-run sixth inning, were the most scored on the Leafs' up-to-now run-stingy pitching staff.

Miami turned back Columbus twice, 5-2 and 4-2, despite four Jet home runs. Montreal edged Buffalo 8-7 in the first game, then lost 2-1 on an extra inning home run by Harry Hanebrink. Homeless Havana broke Richmond's five-game winning streak, 7-1.

Wagner's feat came in the big ninth-run inning and each homer came with a man on, his fifth and sixth of the season.

A pair of southpaws, Rudy Arias and Jim Archer, pitched Miami to within a game of the seventh-place Jets. A two-run homer by Woody Smith off loser Al Jackson evened things after Johnny Powers and Ray Mejias homered in the first for Columbus. Two in the ninth sewed up the first game victory.

Archer gave homers to Mejias and Bob Herrera in the nightcap but his own triple, Leo Burke's double and Dick Brown's two-run homer in the third helped him to a 4-0 lead that cost Diomedes Olivo his fourth loss against five victories.

The Dodgers reopened action Friday night in San Francisco against the Giants.

The Dodgers blasted 16 hits off six of Solly Hemus' moundmen to the delight of a Sabbath turnout of 26,653.

Including were homers by Howard Sherry and Davis, with Frank leading the assault. He knocked in five runs with a two-run homer, a double and a single.

And Roebuck, who toiled at St. Paul last year, notched his seventh straight victory in relief. Good-looking Ed has an earned-run average of 1.94, best in the National League, and has allowed but one run in the last 28 innings.

Louise Suggs Fires 288 In Winning Ladies PGA Tournament At Warren

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Veteran Louise Suggs of Atlanta won the $16,000 Trumbull Open golf tournament here Sunday, but the happiest in the feminine field was tomboy Kathy Whitworth of Jal. N.M.

Miss Suggs, who at 36 has won everything the golfing wars have to offer, extended her year's winnings to $12,062, tops for the tour-ists. She racked up a 72-hole total of 288, four under par, for Trumbull Country Club's 6,246-yard par 73 course. Her prize was $2,500.

Miss Whitworth, a tall, 20-year-old blonde with a boyish bob and a bashful smile, finished sixth with 294 for $800. That's the best she's done in two seasons as a pro. She had the tournament's best round, a 69 in the third session.

Patty Berg, the 42-year-old freckle-faced Chicagoan, started the final round five strokes back of Miss Suggs and made up three of them to finish second at 290 for $1,900. Fay Crocker of Uruguay and Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis., tied for third at 292, each getting $1,350. Barbara Romack of Sacramento was next with 293, good for $1,000.

Then came Miss Whitworth, a Monahan, Tex., native who moved to New Mexico as a kid.

"That $800 helps," she said. "Last year my dad and some other folks underwrote my first try on the tour to the tune of $5,000 and I spent $4,300 of it. I won only $1,200, but now I'm doing a little better."

Asked why she turned pro at the tender age of 17, she said: "I didn't have enough money play as an amateur." Although still subsidized, Kathy says she holds down expenses pretty well but that the tour still is a costly jaunt.

"The girls pair up and travel by car and share rooms to save expenses," she said. "We have to carry a lot of clothes, so travel by car is best. I have three evening or cocktail dresses, a half dozen skirts and blouses, a dozen or so knit shirts, ten pairs of shorts, three pairs of high-heel shoes, four pairs of golf shoes and some ordinary walking shoes."

"Add your golf clubs, raincoats, jackets and the other things a girl just has to carry and you have quite a load to tote around."

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

Open Letter From A Columnist

John Crosby is on vacation. During his absence his column is being conducted by guest writers.

By MIKE NICHOLS

Passing a newsstand recently my eye was caught by a movie magazine, the cover of which featured prominently the beginning of an open letter from a Hollywood columnist to a Hollywood star.

The letter began as follows: "I am not making this up: 'Stop drinking, it won't bring back your baby.'"

After some moments of dizziness accompanied by nausea it occurred to me that this must be vicious parody on someone's part and that as such it could not be surpassed or even equaled.

THE ONLY THING that remains is to attempt to produce a perfectly straightforward Hollywood gossip column. Perhaps thus:

"Open letter to Rick Noun: Friends and fans are saying that since the death of your wife and children last month you seem uppy. I know you don't mean it. Rick, because you're really a nice boy, but be careful. Fans are the people that made you, don't ever let them down."

Claudine Rousseau called me from Rome where she is working on her new picture "The Staten Island Story" to tell me that her Mexico divorce from Kevin Kelly is final. I asked about the rumors of romance between her and Jose Campo, but she said there is nothing to them although Jose does phone her every night from Kenya where he is filming the life of Patrick Henry.

"Ilsa Gustafson's analyst tells me that her recent suicide attempt will be her last. I know all her friends hope so. Ilsa is a very sweet person and in my opinion can be a star even if she pulls herself together. Her doctor, the prominent psychoanalyst Roger Poindexter, recently linked romantically with Bastienne Balzac, has been a great help to Ilsa. He says she is doing her best work to date in her new picture, "Out of Africa" which she is presently filming at the Menninger Clinic."

"I sent my girl Friday to visit my old friend Rena Renfrew at Cedars of Lebanon hospital where she is recovering from major surgery. I was shocked and deeply concerned to hear that Rena has grown immensely fat. Better watch those pounds, Rena. I know how badly you want to play Mary Magdalene in Minelli's biblical epic and weight could make all the difference."

"HOLLYWOOD is still talking about last week's beautiful Heart Ball, the proceeds of which, after the expenses of the ball, will go to the Heart Fund. It was so lovely. The theme of the Ball was Giving and the entire Ballroom of the Beautiful Beverly Hilton Hotel was turned into a replica of Albert Schweitzer's Hospital in Africa."

"First prizes for costumes went to Western star Greg Brand and his beautiful Rita who came as Alfred North Whitehead and Joan of Arc."

"My personal favorites were The Platters and the McGee sisters who got together and came as the Twelve Apostles."

"I talked to Dora Jones at the Ball looking radiant as Sister Kenny. Dora, happily married to Dr. Harold Cunningham the popular brain surgeon, makes very few public appearances. Everyone commented on how lovely and youthful Dora looks.

"Many people would like to know the secret of her agelessness but I think Corsaro Caminetsky hit it on the head. Looking very handsome as St. Francis of Assisi, Corsaro told me, "Dora's secret is her goodness. It shines out of her eyes." I think we can all learn a lesson from Dora who since her retirement from pictures has been tireless in her job as vice president of U. S. Steel."

"That's all the news for today. See you tomorrow for more about the people who make our town what it is."

The July 21 referendum on wheat quotas will be held from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. at the Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee office, 1198 3rd St., Beaver, G. M. Swick, chairman, said today.

Growers eligible to vote will be those who will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest grain in 1961 — except growers taking part in the feed wheat program, he said. At least two-thirds of the growers voting must approve the quotas if they are to become effective.

Car Swerves On Lisbon St., Rams Another

An auto swerved out of control on the Lisbon St. Hill Sunday afternoon when its brakes grabbed, causing a mishap that damaged two other autos, police reported. Three other local accidents were investigated over the weekend.

The Lisbon St. crash, at 5:33 p. m. Sunday, involved a southbound 1950 sedan driven by Ivan R. Rizer Jr., 37, of 500 Dresden Ave.; a northbound 1960 sedan operated by Fred P. Fryman, 48, of LaCroft Ave. and a parked 1957 station wagon owned by Ronald Dingey, 864 Lisbon St., officers said. A city guard rail post also was damaged slightly, officers said.

Rizer told police he was attempting to slow for a curve, applying his brakes, when his car started to slide and hit the left rear fender of Fryman's auto. Rizer's car then hit the guard rail, officers said. After Fryman's auto was struck, it went to the right and hit the parked station wagon, officers said.

Another auto went out of control on Dresden Ave. near McKee St. Sunday at 3:32 a. m., smashing through the guard rails and coming to a halt with its front end projecting over an embankment, police said.

The 1955 two-door sedan was operated by Howard S. Kent, 23, of 721 Pennsylvania Ave., officers reported.

Kent said he was traveling west when an auto which passed him cut in too sharply, causing him to slam on his brakes. Kent said his car then swerved sideways and hit the guard rails. Continuing to slide, the car then went through the guard rail front-end-to, halting with its front projecting over the embankment, he told police. The left front fender and right rear fender and bumper were damaged, officers said.

Police also had an incomplete report showing that a 1955 pickup truck owned by Harold VanMeter, 539 Boyce St., was a total loss after a crash Saturday on Park Way. No details were listed. Police said there was extensive damage to the front end of the truck.

A collision on W. 5th St. Saturday at 7:31 p. m. damaged a 1959 model motorcycle operated by Ralph E. Six, 16, of 407 W. 5th St. and a 1959 sedan operated by Mary Cordero, 24, of Salina, Kans., police said.

Young Six told police he was riding about 15 feet behind the auto when he reached downward to adjust the cuff of his trousers. About that time the auto halted and the motorcycle struck it in the rear, he said.

3rd Place Award Given To Key Club At U.S. Meeting

The East Liverpool High School Key Club's delegation of 22 at the international convention at Boston last week returned with third place activities award in competition with other clubs.

Officers of the city high school service club said a deciding factor in the ranking was the annual achievement report, which ranked first in Ohio in competition held at the state convention in April.

The third place ranking was in the Gold Division of Key Club International, comprising all clubs with a membership of over 25. The club delegation reported there is usually no third place for the achievement reports, but the entry, compiled by Robert Stewart, secretary, was so close to second place, the judges created a third ranking.

A scrapbook submitted in the competitions also placed among the top 10 of all such books from clubs in the United States and Canada. It was prepared by Gary Schreckengost.

En route home, the 19 members and three advisors visited New York for a day of sight-seeing, and returned Friday night. Advisors were Merrill Hall, I. J. Vorndran and John Parsons.

Ford To Close 4 More Plants

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. said four more plants will be shut down today because of production bottlenecks caused by the strike at its big stamping plant in suburban Walton Hills.

The new closings will bring to 20,000 the number of men idled by the walkout that shut down the stamping plant last Wednesday.

Affected by the new closings will be assembly plants for standard-size cars at Chester, Pa., Atlanta, Dallas and St. Paul. These plants employ a total of about 5,000 production workers.

Four plants assembling compact cars already have been closed because of a shortage of parts.

Negotiators for the company met for only 15 minutes Sunday with representatives of United Auto Workers Local 420, whose 3,800 members struck over grievances involving health, safety and production standards.

Another negotiating session was set for 2 p. m. Tuesday.

The brief meeting of negotiators was followed by a general meeting of union members for a report on progress.

The Ford spokesman said he had learned that only 10 per cent of the local's members attended the meeting.

"This indicates to us that apparently the rank and file of the union are not familiar with the issues in the dispute and evidently do not support the stand taken by a minority," he said.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a young woman who is ripping mad at the garment industry.

In these days of high standards, high wages and high everything else, couldn't someone be around to inspect garments to make sure the knots are tied?

I bought a pair of Bermuda shorts to wear to a very special Bermuda party. They cost me $7.98 which is not cheap. I didn't expect them to be Paris originals but neither did I expect the center seam to rip from top to bottom the first time I bent down to tie my shoe.

This calamity occurred at the party, in the presence of 10 couples. What has happened to the pride of workmanship? Where are the people who used to get satisfaction out of doing a good job?

It burns me up the way skilled laborers just put in their time and say to heck with the product! Please print this as a warning to other girls who may be placing too much confidence in their seams. It seems to me that seams ain't what they used to be.—EXPOSED IN HOLLYWOOD.

Dear Exposed: I'm not defending the garment industry but it is a habit of mine to view the problem from as many angles as possible.

You give no clue as to your dimensions, the size of the shorts or the amount of confidence you placed on that center seam. Even the most flawless workmanship will take just so much.

The best insurance against an encore is to buy shorts a size larger.

Claws Are Showing

Dear Ann: A girl who works in our office had a birthday yesterday. Her boy friend sent two dozen roses.

She made a big show of trying to find a vase "big enough." The giggling, swooning and screeching all over the place was unbearable.

In general it was a show off act to end all performances.

We feel it was in bad taste for the fellow to send flowers to the office. After all, such an intimate expression of fondness should go to a girl's home, shouldn't it?

Could it be that she asked him to send the flowers to her place of employment? What do you think? — NAUSEATED COLLEAGUES.

Dear Nauseated Colleagues: Gert Stein and I agree that a rose is a rose. I see nothing wrong in sending flowers to an office. It probably gave the gal an extra thrill—which was his intention.

P.S.: Your claws are showing, girls.

Refined Gold

Dear Ann: I am going with a boy who will be a senior in high school next fall. He has so many good qualities I could take up the whole paper listing them.

The trouble is my older sisters make fun of him because they say he talks like he came from the old country. His parents were born on the other side and they speak their native language at home.

My boy friend was born in Cleveland and he speaks pretty good English but I admit he has a trace of a foreign accent. He says "wid" instead of "with", "dose" instead of "those" and "vinegar" instead of "vinegar".

Should I mention it or let it go and hope he'll catch on by himself and improve?—DESEMONA.

Dear Des: If he's a high school senior and still saying "vinegar" don't expect him to catch on by himself.

If you are interested in this boy, tell him gently (in private, natch,) and help him with the words that gave him trouble. You'd be doing him an enormous favor.

Confidentially

TO ALL READERS WHO WROTE TO TELL ME THAT I GOOFED: Josie is not related to the boozier. You are right right right, and I don't know how I got so far off the genetic base. I've had so many letters and charts from all over the U.S.A. that I'm ready to admit I'm a monkey's uncle.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

In Nation's Spotlight

Church, Youngest Senator, Set As Democrat Keynoter

By BOB BARNES

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A good-looking boyish face with twinkling eyes, topped by a shock of thick black hair, holds the nation's spotlight tonight.

Sen. Frank Church, at 35 the youngest senator, for a time will be the voice of the Democrats.

The party banks on him to carry the fight to the Republicans as temporary chairman and keynote speaker at the Democratic National Convention's opening session. He says he's ready.

Church is a young man who knew where he wanted to go: to the United States Senate. Now he's there, and he says that's where he wants to stay for a good, long time.

When he decided on public life, he took the direct route. He studied oratory and debate in high school and wound up 20 years ago by winning the American Legion's national speaking contest. That meant a four-year college scholarship. Then he became a lawyer as a prelude to entering Idaho politics.

He has come a long way since his father, a Boise, Idaho, sporting goods merchant, unwittingly sparked young Frank's interest in politics by arguments across the dinner table. The late Sen. William E. Borah also excited his admiration.

His dad might have had some doubts about his son's convention role if he were alive—the elder Church was a staunch Republican whose pet peeve was the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"I learned all about the Democrats so I could argue with dad," Church says. "I ended by converting myself."

Trained Chimpanzee Carried Out 'Duties'

TACOMA (AP)—A female chimpanzee, trained to change a baby's diapers, seized a six-month-old girl from her stroller Sunday and refused for 20 minutes to surrender the infant.

Little Marcia Lynn Ebert was returned unharmed to her mother, Mrs. Frederick Ebert, after the chimp had completed a diaper change under surveillance of a state patrolman and store officials.

The incident occurred in a Tacoma department store which keeps the chimp for publicity purposes and lets it circulate among the customers on a leash.

Wellsville Youth Cited As Auto Goes Into Ditch

A Wellsville youth was cited to Juvenile Court at Steubenville after the car he was driving crashed into a ditch Sunday at 12:05 p. m. on Route 132 about three miles south of Empire.

The Wellsville State Highway Patrol said George P. Lamarra, 17, of 305 Broadway was headed north when he lost control on a curve. The car veered to the left side of the highway, crossed back over and went off the right side into the ditch.

Lamarra escaped injury. The right side of his car was damaged. Cacholong is an opaque white or reddish variety of opal.

How Much Do You Know About Mortuary Services?

★ PROCEDURES, COSTS?

★ YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES?

There are good reasons why everyone should be familiar with mortuary details and customs.

For one thing, you never know when you might have to act for the family or help friends with a funeral arrangement. For another, you never know what special conditions you might have to face. An accident, or a death far from home — perhaps overseas — frequently poses some knotty problems. Still a third good reason lies in the fact that some pre-knowledge greatly reduces your mental stress in a difficult period—and most important—helps you to guard against overspending.

We have the answers to the problems you'll face, and we've put them all in a handy little pocket-size booklet for you.

Woman Watches Perry Mason On TV As Pair Stage Holdup

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Abraham A. Bader, 82, was upstairs watching Perry Mason on television. She didn't know that while she watched the detective story unfold, two courteous gunmen were tying up her two daughters and the maid and walking off with $70,000 worth of jewels.

The two men gained entrance to the South Euclid home Saturday evening by telling the maid they were Internal Revenue Service agents. Evelyn Bader, 51-year-old shop operator, was told the visitors wanted information about a Chicago dressmaker.

Then the men, well-dressed and with polished fingernails, produced guns and asked for the jewels, Miss Bader told police.

The gunmen took only 30 - odd items of jewelry, plus $700 in cash. "They knew what they wanted," Miss Bader said. They looked at each piece and abandoned what they thought was junk. She said they asked specifically for a 6 1/2-carat, pear-shaped diamond ring that Miss Bader's sister, Jean, had worn only twice. The ring had been a gift from her late father.

Value of the loot, about half of which was insured, was estimated by the family.

After binding the three women with adhesive tape, the gunmen called someone on the telephone to pick them up. They did not bind Mrs. Bader, who is bedfast. The elderly woman learned of the robbery later from her daughters.

A neighbor told police she saw the men get into a 1959 automobile driven by a third man.

Booby Trap Backfires On Fort Worth Grocer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Grocer B.C. Russell, 59, intended to throw a watermelon in the garbage can, opened the back door of the store. The door jerked a string which discharged a .38 caliber pistol. His injury was not serious.

The device killed Earl Wayne Hanson, 21, last September after he had broken into the store.

'Funeral' Wedding

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A Nashville couple began their married life where most people end it—in a funeral home. Rain started falling just as the garden wedding for Shirley Price and Melvin Baker was about to begin. Rather than postpone the marriage, the wedding party and guests dashed to a nearby funeral home where the vows were exchanged.

Auto Pursued From Chester In Speed Case

A Newell man, nabbed for speeding after a 70-mile-an-hour chase over the Chester Bridge, and a city man who reportedly parked his car for three days in a yellow line area, are slated for hearings tonight before Chester Mayor Ray Collins.

Charles B. Mills, 27, of 531 Jefferson St., Newell, was arrested early Sunday morning by Patrolman Clarence Lennens of Chester at Thompson Pl., East Liverpool, after a pursuit across the bridge.

Lennens said he first saw Mills at 3rd St. and Virginia Ave., traveling about 60 miles an hour, and pursued him to 1st St. and over the bridge.

Ronnie Forrester of Walnut St., East Liverpool, posted a $15.50 bond Sunday for a hearing tonight for illegal parking. Lennens had Forrester's car towed from a yellow line area at Carolina Ave. and 3rd St. Wednesday after it had been parked there for three days.

Forrester was cited yesterday when he went to police to locate his car.

A 1949 sedan owned by Mrs. Ed Heiber of Toledo, rooming at Chester, was damaged when struck by an unidentified auto Sunday night at 10:35 while parked on Carolina Ave. near 4th St.

Robert Pugh of Carolina Ave. heard the crash and reported it to Lennens, who said the left fender of the auto was damaged.

About $100 damage resulted to two cars involved in a collision on the Route 30 hill at the intersection with Lawrenceville Rd. Sunday afternoon at 3:20.

A car operated by Jolly Streets of Chester R. D. 1 made a left turn from Route 30 onto the Lawrenceville Rd. and was struck from behind by an auto driven by Charles Bacorn of Morgantown. Lennens said.

Snooping Reporter Finds 'Significance'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—One room at the Democratic convention headquarters hotel was taken by the 750 Club, composed of Democrats who have contributed $1,000 or more to the party.

A newsman discovered the club and ordered a direct telephone line to some point downtown. He didn't know where but—suspecting there might be political significance—he called the number to see who would answer.

It was the brokerage firm of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith.

Detroit was captured by the British in the War of 1812, but was recovered by the United States a year later.

HIGHLAND PARK, N.J. (AP)—A former Hungarian freedom fighter who collects sport cars, jazz records and formal clothes is being sought for questioning today in the slaying of two policemen who had arrested him for speeding.

The policemen from nearby Franklin Township were found shot to death Sunday in the apartment of Michael Fekecs, 25.

The slain patrolmen, George Dunham and John Lebed, had pursued Fekecs into the city of New Brunswick and arrested him for speeding. When they discovered Fekecs' license had been revoked, they escorted him to Franklin Township police headquarters.

After bail was set at $250, police said Fekecs asked the two patrolmen to accompany him to his apartment here so he could pick up money for the bond.

That was the last time any of their colleagues saw Dunham and Lebed alive.

Rebecca Yasgur, Fekecs' neighbor, summoned police after she discovered a hole in the wall and a bullet on her living room floor.

Police broke into the ground floor two-room apartment and found the two patrolmen dead on the bedroom floor. Each body had a head wound from a .32 caliber pistol.
